Welcome to the e-mail list of the Islam Q&A website.

1. Ruling on putting the Holy Qur'an on a mobile phone or carrying it in one's pocket.
use link

<http://islamqa.com/en/ref/125930>

Is it permissible to bear virtual Quran in Mobile Phone as we keep it in the back or front pockets of pants?.

Praise be to Allaah.

It is permissible to put the Holy Qur'an on mobile phone, but it should be in the 'Uthmaani script, unless that is not possible, in which case it is permissible to use a different one.

See the answer to question number 98922 and 106961

There is nothing wrong with carrying the Mushaf and putting it in one's pocket, in pants or other clothes, so long as it is protected against tearing or mishandling.

It says in Fataawa al-Lajnah al-Daa'imah (4/60): One of us carries the Mushaf in his pocket, and he may enter the washroom carrying it. What is the ruling on that, please advise us?

Answer: carrying the Mushaf in one's pocket is permissible, but it is not permissible for a person to enter the washroom carrying a Mushaf; rather he should put the Mushaf in a suitable place, out of respect and veneration for the Book of Allaah. But if he has no choice but to take it in with him, for fear that it may be stolen if he leaves it outside, then it is permissible for him to take it in with him, out of necessity. End quote.

But if the Mushaf is carried in the back pocket of one's pants, and that will lead to sitting on the Mushaf when a person wants to sit down, then it is not permissible -- in that case -- to put it in the back pocket. The least that can be said concerning that is that it is makrooh. In fact more than one of the scholars stated clearly that something less serious than that is haraam, namely putting the Mushaf beneath one's head like a pillow.

Al-Nawawi (may Allaah have mercy on him) said:

The scholars are unanimously agreed that it is obligatory to protect and respect the Mushaf.

Our companions and others said: ... it is haraam to use it as a pillow; in fact using any book of knowledge as a pillow is haraam. End quote.

Al-Tabyeen fi Adaab Hamalat al-Qur'aan (128); see also al-Burhaan fi 'Uloom al-Qur'aan by al-Zarkashi (1/478)

Ibn Muflih (May Allaah have mercy on him) said:

It is makrooh to use the Mushaf as a pillow. This was stated by Ibn Tameem, who mentioned it in al-Ri'aayah. Bakr ibn Muhammad said: Abu 'Abd-Allaah said it is makrooh to place the Mushaf beneath one's head and sleep on it. Al-Qaadi said: Rather that is makrooh because it is humiliating it and failing to respect it, as he is treating it like any other object.

Ibn Hamdaan favoured the view that it is haraam and stated that definitively in al-Mughni and al-Sharh. The same applies to all books of knowledge, if they contain Qur'aan, otherwise it is only makrooh.

Ibn 'Abd al-Qawiy says in his book Majma' al-Bahrayn: It is haraam to recline on the Mushaf and on the books of hadeeth and on anything in which there is any Qur'aan, according to consensus. End quote

Al-Adaab al-Shar'iyyah (2/393)

And Allaah knows best.

2. Ruling on playing cards without gambling.

use link

<http://islamqa.com/en/ref/12567>

Why is playing cards - I mean only playing, without gambling - counted as haraam? We are not playing for money

Praise be to Allaah.

The Standing Committee was asked about playing cards if that does not distract people from prayer and there is no money involved. They answered:

Playing cards is not permitted, even if there is no money involved, because the problem with that is that it distracts people from remembering Allaah (dhikr) and from prayer. Even if they claim that this is not the case, then it is still a means that may lead to gambling which is expressly forbidden in the Qur'aan. Allaah says (interpretation of the meaning):

“Intoxicants (all kinds of alcoholic drinks), and gambling, and Al-Ansaab (stone altars for sacrifices to false gods) and Al-Azlaam (arrows for seeking luck or decision) are an abomination of Shaytaan’s (Satan’s) handiwork. So avoid (strictly all) that (abomination) in order that you may be successful”

[al-Maa'idah 5:90]

These cards have an effect on society, for the bonds of a strong society are achieved by means of two things: following the commands of Allaah and heeding His prohibitions. A society disintegrates when it neglects any of those duties or does any of those things that are forbidden. These cards form one of the factors which have an effect on society. They cause people to neglect prayer in congregation, and they generate alienation, breaking of ties, hatred and negligence through the committing of haraam actions, and they make people too lazy to earn a living.

Fataawa Islamiyyah, 4/436

With regard to the history of these playing cards: No one really knows who invented playing cards or when or where they were invented. It has been said that they are of Chinese or Indian origin, or otherwise. But historians are agreed that they came to Europe from the Middle East in the latter part of the Middle Ages. Experts also say that there is agreement that playing cards have clearly evolved from that time until now.

Playing cards made their first appearance in Europe in Andalusia, and were brought to northern Spain in the eleventh century CE.

The traditional deck of cards in Spain consisted of 40 cards, including the numbers 1 to 7, plus three characters, the highest of which was the “ruler”, followed by the “deputy”, then the “scribe” or “knight.”

In the sixteenth century, the French changed the cards, replacing the “ruler” with the king, the “deputy” with the queen, and the “knight” with the jack. They also added three new numbers, so that the deck now consisted of 52 cards. In the seventeenth century, the Germans added a fourth character, the joker.

We have quoted above the fatwa on playing with these cards. It may also be added that playing cards is devoid of any of the goals of recreational activities as required in Islam; it does not teach any skill that is needed for jihad or any useful knowledge or bring any social benefit or relaxation that will calm the nerves. Rather it is a game that has nothing good in it; it causes arguments and simply kills time. It is based on speculation and chance, and it is like playing with dice, in that it leads to disputes and fighting, and it is like alcohol and gambling.

Based on the above, it would not be farfetched to suggest that it is haraam rather than makrooh, by analogy with dice, because both are based on chance and both lead to arguments.

The same view was favoured by Shaykh Ibn Hajar al-Haythami, and it is the view of our contemporary scholars, and of Shaykh Muhammad ibn Saalih al-‘Uthaymeen among the fuqaha’ of al-Najd, who transmitted it from his shaykhs. This is based on the fact that it leads to enmity and hatred, and because it is a great waste of time and it distracts people from remembering Allaah (dhikr) and keeps them from worshipping and obeying Him.

This view is further supported by the fact that one of the French kings issued orders banning people from playing cards during the day, and stating that everyone who went against this order was to be arrested and punished. That was because the French people loved playing cards too much, to such an extent that they were neglecting their work in order to play cards. The punishment dictated by this French king was not just a brief imprisonment, he also added a severe beating as a deterrent to others.

Yet despite these decrees and others, he did not succeed in uprooting the habit of playing cards; the only result was that the people started to play in secret rather than openly.

Welcome to Exploring Islam

Messenger of Allah, Prophet Muhammad [saw] said: "Seeking knowledge is a duty upon every Muslim"

Behold! in the creation of the heavens and the earth, and the alternation of night and day, there are indeed Signs for people of understanding. People who celebrate the praises of Allah, standing, sitting, and lying down on their sides, and contemplate the (wonders of) creation in the heavens and the earth, (with the thought): "Our Lord! not for nothing have You created (all) this! Glory to You! Give us salvation from the penalty of the Fire." [Quran 3:190-191]

Peace and Blessings of God be upon you! You are now standing at the Gateway of God's Greatest Gift to Man: Islam, which is the Complete Way of Life as taught to us by all the Prophets of God.

Request you to visit the portals, with a free mind and a free heart, looking for God's Truth. Hopefully, these informations and links will help you to get a true understanding of Islam, which is the Life of about a billion and half people inhabiting our planet. You get authentic information about Islam here, so that you have the chance of knowing what Islam really is. Please have the patience to carefully read the pages and compare the information you get here with whatever you had thought about Islam previously. If required, you can supplement your knowledge with further reading of the Original Sources of Islam and other books by scholars who have studied Islam in depth and live in Islam. If you as an outsider, observe those people who call themselves Muslims, you may not see much of Islam in them; or their life may misrepresent Islam, as in the case of the followers of any other religion, for that matter. If you want to study what Christianity is, you go to the great scholars of Christianity as well as to the Bible, the Holy Book of Christianity. So also in the case of Islam, where you need to get information about it from the most authentic sources. Then only can you judge Islam as well as Muslims as to how they really compare with the followers of other religions, or how they fare in their observance of this Great Religion.

"I began to see Islam with its own eyes, as the unadulterated, pristine belief in the one and only, the true God, Who does not beget, and was not begotten, Whom nothing and nobody resembles ... In place of the qualified deism of a tribal God and the constructions of a divine Trinity, the Qur'an showed me the most lucid, most straightforward, the most abstract - thus historically most advanced - and least anthropomorphic concept of God. The Qur'an's ontological statements, as well as its ethical teachings, impressed me as profoundly plausible, "as good as gold," so there was no room for even the slightest doubt about the authenticity of Muhammad's prophetic mission. People who understand human nature cannot fail to appreciate the infinite wisdom of the "Dos and Don'ts" handed down from God to man in the form of the Qur'an." "There is some irony in the fact that the supposedly best, brightest, and most idealistic of ministers-to-be are selected for the very best of seminary education, e.g. that offered at that time at the Harvard Divinity School. The irony is that, given such an education, the seminarian is exposed to ... much ... historical truth. .. As such, it is no real wonder that almost a majority of such seminary graduates leave seminary, not to "fill pulpits", where they would be asked to preach that which they know is not true, but to enter the various counseling professions. Such was also the case for me, as I went on to earn a master's and doctorate in clinical psychology." Dr. Dirks is a former minister (deacon) of the United Methodist Church. He holds a Master's degree in Divinity from Harvard University and a Doctorate in Psychology from the University of Denver. Author of "The Cross and the Crescent: An Interfaith Dialogue between Christianity and Islam" (2001), and "Abraham: The Friend of God" (2002). He has published over 60 articles in the field of clinical psychology, and over 150 articles on Arabian horses.

Like a vast magnificent ocean, it lures you deeper and deeper into its dazzling waves until you are swept into it. But instead of drowning in a sea of darkness, as described above, you find yourself immersed in an ocean of divine light and mercy. ... as I read the Qur'an and prayed the Islamic prayers, a door to my heart was unsealed and I was immersed in an overwhelming tenderness. ISLAM is the fastest growing religion in the West. Nevertheless, the West has many stereotypes and misconceptions about ISLAM that are due to the media, prejudice, and ignorance. ISLAM is often looked upon as an extremist, terrorist religion. Many people hate ISLAM and do not want to acknowledge its true teachings. In contrast to what many Westerners think of ISLAM, Islam is a peaceful religion, which does not promote any forms against the teachings.

An enlighten & thought provoking book written by one of the leading Islamic scholars of our time. In this book the auther discuss very deeply about ISLAM and Ignorance. Assalamualaikum

Dear Dr Umar Azam

I hope this message reaches you in the best of health and iman.

I write to you from Islam Channel offices regarding a documentary we will be filming about dreams and Islam.

The aim of the documentary is to discover the significance and meanings of our dreams as detailed in Qur'an and Hadith. Through the expert knowledge of scholars and academics like yourself as well as the personal experiences of Islam Channel viewers, we endeavour to shed light on the relevance of our dreams.

We would like the documentary to be accessible to children and adults alike so it will centre on a few questions and then go into further detail. The essential questions we have in mind are where do dreams come from? Do dreams have meaning and significance? What is the relevance of recurring dreams? And ultimately, why do we dream at all?

Having been an enthralled reader of your website I believe our documentary will be greatly enhanced by your participation. We would like to interview you at a location in or around London if possible. Unfortunately, we would not be able to pay you for your appearance on the show but are happy to pay your travel expenses and show your website address on the show.

Please let me know as soon as possible if you would like to take part or if you have any further questions.

Kind Regards
Naima Khan
Assistant Producer
Islam Channel.

Salamalaikum Dr. Umar,

I have a daughter who is 2 years old. Her name is Nazia Najeeb.

Last week one gentleman told me that it is not preferable to name the girls starting with alphabet "N" (i.e. Noon). He cited an incident that once during Prophet Mohammad (SAW), a person asked rasool allah that on naming his daughter with alphaphet Noon. Rasool allah heard him and remained silent and gave no reply.

Please advise whether naming girls with N (or Noon) is to be avoided?

Appreciate your kind response.

Many thanks.

Assalamu Alaikum,

Over the twelve months or so I've received lots of Requests for the Holy Quran Attachment and I have always tried to send the Quran punctually. But I've also received dozens of notices from Yahoo! informing me that 'Delivery Failed'.

Because I received more than 877 Requests, it's going to be too complicated to try to match the 'Delivery Failed' email address to the matching inbox Request. Such a task could take many hours, even days!

So now I'm sending the Holy Quran Attachment to all of my Contacts. I await your email confirming receipt and enlightening me as to whether you did get the Quran before too or whether you're one of those who've been waiting for your copy because of the 'Delivery Failed' problem.

Dr Umar

PS Feel free to tell friends/relatives that the Quran Attachment can be delivered to them if they put in a Request

Bismillah [IslamCity] 600 Wings With Jewels, Pearls and Rubies

The Prophet (saw) said: "I saw Jibreel descending from heaven, and his great size filled the space between heaven and earth." (Reported by Muslim, no. 177)

The greatest of all the angels is Jibreel (Gabriel), upon whom be peace, who was described in the following report:

"From 'Abdullaah ibn Mas'ood, who said: the Messenger of Allah (Peace & Blessings of Allaah be upon Him) saw Jibreel in his true form. He had six hundred wings, each of which covered the horizon. There fell from his wings jewels, pearls and rubies, only Allah knows about them." It was reported by Ahmad in al-Musnad, and Ibn Katheer said in al-Bidaayah 1/47 that its isnaad is jayyid.

{Invite (mankind, O Muhammad) to the Way of your Lord (i.e. Islam) with wisdom (i.e. with the Divine Inspiration and the Qur'an) and fair preaching, and argue with them in a way that is better. Truly, your Lord knows best who has gone astray from His Path, and He is the Best Aware of those who are guided.} (Holy Quran-16:125)

{And who is better in speech than he who [says: "My Lord is Allah (believes in His Oneness)," and then stands straight (acts upon His Order), and] invites (men) to Allah's (Islamic Monotheism), and does righteous deeds, and says: "I am one of the Muslims."} (Holy Quran-41:33)

The prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) said: "By Allah, if Allah guides one person by you, it is better for you than the best types of camels." [al-Bukhaaree, Muslim]

The prophet (peace and blessings of Allah be upon him) also said, "Whoever calls to guidance will have a reward similar to the reward of the one who follows him, without the reward of either of them being lessened at all." [Muslim, Ahmad, Aboo Daawood, an-Nasaa'ee, at-Tirmidhee, Ibn Maajah]
