Assalamu'alaikum brothers and sisters in Islam.

Insha'Allah, we hope you and your families are safe and have returned or are returning to your homes after an eventful weekend. All praises and thanks are only for Allah subhanahu wa ta'ala and verily there is no authority or power except with Him.

The following are a few dua's with which we can thank Allah for His countless favors and seek refuge in Him from all calamities and difficult situations. Lets memorize them and keep our tongues busy with the remembrances of Allah.

اللَّهُمَّ أَنْتَ رَبِّي لَا إِلَهَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ
خَلَقْتَنِي وَأَنَا عَبْدُكَ، وَأَنَا عَلَى عَهْدِكَ
وَوَعْدِكَ مَا اسْتَطَعْتُ أَعُوذُ بِكَ مِنْ
شَرِّ مَا صَنَعْتُ، أَبُوءُ لَكَ بِنِعْمَتِكَ
عَلَيَّ، وَأَبُوءُ بِذَنْبِي، فَاغْفِرْ لِي فَإِنَّهُ
لَا يَغْفِرُ الذُّنُوبَ إِلَّا أَنْتَ.

'O Allah, You are my Lord, none has the right to be worshipped except You, You created me and I am Your servant and I abide to Your covenant and promise as best I can, I take refuge in You from the evil of which I committed. I acknowledge Your favour upon me and I acknowledge my sin, so forgive me, for verily none can forgive sin except You.'

اللَّهُمَّ مَا أَصْبَحَ بِي مِنْ نِعْمَةٍ، أَوْ
بِأَحَدٍ مِنْ خَلْقِكَ، فَمِنْكَ وَحْدَكَ
لَا شَرِيكَ لَكَ، فَلكَ الْحَمْدُ وَلَكَ
الشُّكْرُ.

'O Allah, what blessing I or any of Your creation have risen upon, is from You alone, without partner, so for You is all praise and unto You all thanks.'

Aspects of Islam

Miracles of Islam

This is a recently discovered phenomenon in a forest near SYDNEY. As you can see the bottom half of the tree trunk is bowed in such a way that it resembles a person in a posture of Islamic prayer - THE RUKU. looking closer you can see the hands resting on the knees. The most amazing thing is that the man is directly facing the HOLY KAABAH in MECCA which is the direction which makes you think does it....

The holy Qur'an comprises 114 suras (chapters) each of which is made up of varying numbers of ayat's (verses).

The illustration on the left shows a scatter graph of the number of verses in a sura against the number of the sura. The result resembles the word "Allah" in Arabic (right).

Miracles in the lungs

This picture shows us that LA ILAHA ILLALLAH MUHAMMED RASOOL ALLAH is written in our lungs.

SUBJECT : From Quran Surat Ar-Rahman Ayah 37 and the Hubble Telescope via NASA See the attached picture file, the RED ROSE NEBULA, see what Quran said at Surah 55 (Ar-Rahman), Ayah 37! We see it now in the years 1999/2000! and Quran mentioned it almost 1400 years ago. The picture is taken by the NASA Hubble Space Telescope of the "Cat's Eye Nebula." It is an exploding star 3,000 lightyears away. They should have called it the "Oily Red Rose Nebula." As the Quran states in Ar-Rahman, "When the sky is torn apart, so it was (like) a red rose, like ointment." Quran[Surah55:ayah37]

"La ilaha illa Allah, Muhammadun Rasul Allah"

This image shows a side of one of the Farms in a Germany Wood, where the tree branches, in a wonderful style shows (In Arabic) ones word, "THERE IS NO GOD EXCEPT ALLAH, AND MUHAMMAD IS THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH," in an image that makes the hearts beat with belief in ALLAH the creator of this universe who is able to do anything He wants. Consequently, this picture shows that "Islam" is the great innate religion. As soon as the German people saw this image many of them converted to this nature religion. Infront of this great incident, the spiteful German Government surrounded that part of the farm and prevented the people form visiting it, since the government was worried that by seeing this farm, people will be fascinated after the clear presence of, "THERE IS NO GOD EXCEPT ALLAH, AND MUHAMMAD IS THE MESSENGER OF ALLAH."
(In Arabic)."

We will show them our signs in all regions of the earth and in their own souls, until they clearly see that this is the truth..[Fusllat : 53]

THE FISH TESTIFIES FOR THE PROPHETS

The story of fish began when Mr. George Wehbi, a Christian Lebanese was practising his fish hobby, in Dakar, (the Capital of West Africa). He caught many fish. When he went home his wife saw among them a strange fish about 50 cms in length, with some Arabic writing on it. He took it to Sheikh al-Zein, who read clearly what was written in a natural way, that could not be done by a human being, but rather a Godly creation which the fish was born with. He read "God's servant" on its belly and "Muhammad" near its head, and "His Messenger" on its tail.

Mosque Still Stands Still after an Earthquake.

A Mosque still stands after an earthquake in Turkey. Even though all the buildings beside it have been destroyed. This earthquake took place in the western Turkish town of Golcuk, 60 miles from Istanbul, in August 19, 1999.

It is a honey comb found by a bee keeper.

On 19 June 1999 Mr L. Storey from London, England attended a Transmission Meditation workshop led by Benjamin Crème in London. The following day he discovered a stone with Arabic writing on it, on a pile of clothes in his bedroom. It took him a while find someone to read it for him, when he did he was amazed to hear it read: "I bear witness there is only one God, and I bear witness Mohammed was his Prophet."

About five years ago 33 year old Mikail Guclu from the Regent Quarter of the Hague, Holland, bought some eggs fresh from the farm and as usual had them on sale in his shop. But two of the eggs seemed slightly strange. "I noticed that the shells were a little misshapen." he said "Very odd, just like Arabic letters, And then suddenly I saw it: 'Allah'." Reason enough for him to call a friend. He himself speaks four languages but his knowledge of Arabic is limited and besides, he wanted to hear all the 'ins and outs' of it.

"But I could hardly believe what he said - what he could read on the egg was "There is but one God, Allah, and Mohammed is his prophet." That's why I asked others just to be on the safe side, and I went to the mosque, to the imam. Everyone said the same thing."

Guclu discovered the "miracle beans" while sorting through them two days after he had purchased the eggs. He had bought about five kilos of beans, about 500 grams of which bear the name 'Allah'.

Guclu believes that what subsequently happened with the beans is even more of a miracle. He gave some of the 'Allah beans to friends. Out of respect he did not feel he could sell the remaining beans; he decided to give them to the mosque, and requested that they be cooked and shared among the congregation. " About forty people enjoyed a complete meal from those beans and there was still food left over. The imam told me later; " We could serve as much as we wished, and the supply was still not exhausted."

Allah's name in the clouds

The name of Allah is formed by the clouds as seen above.

Allah written in a Tomato

SPECIAL FISH ... Mohd Abdullah holding a toman with markings which resemble the Jawi writing for "Ya Allah Ya Malik".

Toman fish draw attention with unusual Jawi markings

RAWANG, Sat. — The Rawang Anglers Park houses what it believes to be the only six channa micropetites (fish toman) in the world with Jawi markings on their bodies.

Five of the toman had the markings on the side of their bodies while one had the markings on top of its head.

The park's owner, Datuk Mohd Abdullah Abdul Kadir, claimed the markings resembled the Jawi words Aliah Allah Allah, Laillahaillallah (There is no God but Allah), Ya Allah Ya Malik (Oh Allah, Oh Lord), Bismillahrahmanirrahim (In the name of Allah, the Compassionate, the Merciful), and Allah.

Mohd Abdullah, who has been breeding toman for the past 10 years, said his workers discovered the fish while harvesting one of the breeding ponds behind the park area.

The fish, ranging from 15 to 22 kilogrammes in weight, are of the snake head species and are kept in special holding tanks at the park for display.

However, Mohd Abdullah said, one of the toman with the markings of Laillahaillallah had died earlier due to lack of oxygen in its tank.

"I had been offered

RM100,000 to sell the fish when it was alive, but did not do so," he said.

Mohd Abdullah said he would be sending the dead toman to be preserved and planned to donate it to the Islamic Arts Museum Malaysia in Kuala Lumpur.

He also said that he planned to donate the remaining toman to the Saudi Arabian embassy to be displayed at the Masjidil Haram in Mecca.

Mohd Abdullah said the magnificent toman fish are also very aggressive.

"One of the fish recently broke the glass panel of a tank. The glass is 13mmthick. We also have to tie down the top of the other tanks to prevent the fish jumping out."

Mohd Abdullah said one of the surviving toman was unique as it was shaped like a sea horse. However, he expressed concern over the fish as all were quite sickly.

"They are very sensitive and need a big space to swim," he said.

Mohd Abdullah said that the public could view the unique fish at the park situated at Lot 3021, Batu 17, Rawang. For further details, kindly contact Rozita Abdul Karim at (013) 341-4438 or Mohd Din at (013) 350-1554.

To

Dear Umar,

Imagine your poem featured on an entire page to itself . . .

Over the past year or so, we have been reviewing the thousands of poems submitted to us, as well as examining the poetic accomplishments of people whose poetry has appeared on the Internet and in various editions released by other poetry publishers in America and Europe. I am pleased to tell you that you have been selected to appear in this special edition . . .

The Best Poems and Poets of 2005

I was a BNP activist ... and converted to Islam

Muhammad Islam

Saturday September 24, 2005

The Guardian

I hated all foreigners but feared Muslims the most. I grew up in the 1960s in Gateshead, in a predominantly white area; I can't remember seeing an Asian face there. As a family we were not religious. We only went to weddings, funerals and christenings. I was not interested in school, either. You didn't need to stay on because you were more or less guaranteed a job in the mines, steelworks or shipyards. Article continues ▾

When I was 16, all my friends were British National Party activists. It was a cool thing to do, and I joined in, too. I wanted to shock, to rebel. We would get together, drink, listen to music, chase girls and go out Paki-bashing. That wasn't a phrase we considered bad or wrong.

I remember my first time; it was a Saturday night and we had been drinking. We went into an Asian area and came across a lad of about 17. We started chanting - the usual thing, "Go back to your own country" - and then went after him. There were about 10 of us, and we kicked and punched him. When we ran away, I remember, we were laughing. I don't know what happened to him, and at the time I wouldn't have cared: I was in a group and we had camaraderie.

By the time I was 19 I was growing out of the BNP. I moved to London for work and stopped going to meetings. But I still hated all foreigners, especially Muslims. Over the next few years I became involved with people who went to Muslim meetings in Hyde Park, mainly to cause trouble.

Then, one day in 1989, I was walking past a secondhand book stall by the Royal Festival Hall when a cover caught my eye: it was the most beautiful picture, in the most gorgeous colours, of a building. I didn't know what the book was, but it was only 20p so I bought it. I thought I'd buy a cheap frame and have a nice picture for my wall. I had no idea until I got home that I had bought the Qur'an.

I was horrified when I found out. My initial reaction was to throw it away. But then I got curious. I started reading it, thinking I would find things to use against Muslims; I thought it would be filled with contradictions. When I was young, my mum always made her views known and from her I acquired a love of debating. Now, I would regularly go and debate with Muslims at Speakers' Corner in Hyde Park. As I did so, I started to get a very different picture of Islam. Seeing people pray in unison was such a powerful image.

A few years later, I returned to the north-east - I'd got a job as a chef. When I saw a group of Muslims at an Islamic book stall in Newcastle, I thought, "Here's another group I can wind up; I probably know more about Islam than they do." But I was shocked when I approached them; they were very knowledgeable. I kept going back because I enjoyed debating with them, and after four weeks they challenged me.

They wanted me to try to disprove the Qur'an and convince them my way of life was better. They said if I succeeded they would become Christians, but if I failed I should become a Muslim. I accepted the challenge. But after months of returning to the stall and debating, I realised I was losing and panicked. I stopped going to the stall.

Three years had passed when I bumped into one of the guys from the stall. As I thought about what I wanted to do, I felt as if a big rock were crushing me, but when I told him I wanted to convert, I had a total sense of peace. I made my final decision on Wednesday November 17 1996 and converted the following day. I have been close to the Hizb ut-Tahrir group ever since: I became a Muslim because of them; they were the guys at the stall.

When I told my family, my sister stopped talking to me. My father was horrified but didn't want to discuss it. My mother thought it was a phase I was going through and was more worried about what the neighbours would think. She now lets me pray in the house, but refuses to call me Muhammad (I was born John Ord).

I met my wife, who is Pakistani, after converting. We live in Birmingham, where she works as a primary school teacher. I have just started a degree in social work. When I look back, I can't believe the things I did; it feels like a different person and a different life. Ironically, because of the backlash from the London bombings, I now fear attack, and have started going out in my English clothes. In them I look like a bearded, middle-aged white guy.

Thank-you Dr Umar for your gracious reply. Our members are asking for 'off the ground' reports from Iraq hospitals so that they can appreciate and in many cases act on the increasing disaster in Iraq. We will eventually 'open up' the site with many of these reports. Restrictions are in place for this type of reporting from the medical fraternity in Iraq. I cannot therefore credit these surgeons by name but may Allah s.w.t. bless them.

Assalamu Alaikum

Ramadan is alhamdulillah with us. While we will be enjoying the blessings of this holy month, millions of people around the world will be suffering due to poverty.

The problems of poverty can sometimes seem vast and yet progress is being made. Alhamdulillah Islamic Aid, our supporters and volunteers are part of this great effort to lift people out of poverty. But still, all over the world, thousands of people die each day from hunger and disease. And yet, £15 could feed a family for 2 weeks, £75 could supply drinking water to a community and £1,300 could provide educational facilities to a whole community.

It is our duty to Allah (swt) to help those in need. Please send your Zakah, Sadaqah, Lillah, Zakatul-fitr and other donations today.

To make a donation, please visit <http://www.islamicaid.org.uk/youcanhelp.html>. You can maximise your reward this Ramadan by signing up an online Direct Debit to give every month for those in need.

Blind Thai Wins International Qur'aan Award

By Fatima Asmal, IOL Correspondent

JOHANNESBURG , October 19, 2005 – A Blind young man from Thailand has been awarded a prestigious international Qur'aan award for memorising the Noble Qur'aan by heart.

Mohammad Islah Busakorn, who enrolled at the Madressah Noor for the Blind in South Africa in 1997, won first prize in the "Mahir bil-Qur'aan" (Skilful with the Qur'aan) contest organized by the International Organization for Memorizing the Qur'aan (IOMQ) in Jeddah, Saudi Arabia .

"Al-hamdulillah (all praise be to Allaah) the judges thought I was good, but I hope that I'm good in Allaah's sight as well," said Busakorn.

"We have to remember that there will sometimes be obstacles and tests on the path of memorization but we have to be patient and try to overcome these challenges," said Busakorn.

Busakorn, together with 9-year-old Humairah Rawoo, the only female participant, was selected to vie in the competition by an IOMQ representative, who recently visited South Africa .

Turning Point

Though he lost his eyesight at the young age of seven, the distress was a turning point in Busakorn's life.

Determined and defiant Busakorn started memorizing some surahs at nine and managed to memorize the Qur'aan in Thailand at 11, under the supervision of an Imaam.

He did not attend school as the only blind educational institute in the area was a Buddhist one.

"I stayed home and started listening to tapes of Qur'aan recitation," he said. "I didn't have any intention of becoming a hafidh," he added, explaining that the huffadh (those who memorized the Qur'aan) in Thailand are something of a rarity.

Curious to learn about Shari'ah and Islaamic teachings, he went all the way to South Africa when he knew from his brother about an Islaamic institute for the blind and visually impaired, namely, Madressah Noor.

Asked what advice he had to offer to huffadh, Busakorn said that it was important to remember that the Qur'aan was the best of everything.

"We have to remember that there will sometimes be obstacles and tests on the path of memorization but we have to be patient and try to overcome these challenges."

Principal of Madressah Noor, Hassen Murchie, is proud of his student.
